The image shows a technical diagram of a car's cooling system. A large, semi-transparent red watermark 'metzger' is overlaid across the center, with 'Autoteile' written in a smaller font below it. The diagram includes several components: a grey expansion tank at the top center, a thermostat on the right, and two grey water pipes on the left. A large, dark, flexible hose is shown at the bottom, with a red part number '2420340' printed on it. Lines connect the labels to their respective parts.
